Conference Message

Dear Colleagues,

It is my great honour to welcome you to the 19th Asian - Pacific Congress of Hypertension (APCH 2025). We are delighted to invite you to join us in Lucknow, India for three days of stimulating discussions, knowledge sharing, and networking.

APCH 2025 is a premier event that brings together healthcare professionals, researchers, policymakers, and industry experts from across the Asia Pacific region. Our conference theme, Hypertension and its Comorbidities, reflects our commitment to addressing the complex healthcare challenges facing our region.

We expect more than 600 delegates to be a part of APCH 2025. Renowned national and international speakers will be a part of this conference.

To our delegates, We extend a warm welcome. We encourage you to engage fully with the conference program, ask questions, share your expertise, and forge new connections. Your participation will enrich our discussions and contribute to the advancement of healthcare in our region.

We welcome you to experience the history and cuisine of the city of Lucknow where every corner has a story to tell.

Together, let us strive for excellence in healthcare and make APCH 2025 an unforgettable experience.

Prof. Anuj Maheshwari
President, APCH
Organizing Chairman, APCH 2025

Message from Scientific Chair

Dear Friends and Colleagues,

It is my great pleasure to welcome you to the 19th Asian - Pacific Congress of Hypertension (APCH 2025).

As the Scientific Chair, the APCH 2025 program promises to be an exciting and enriching experience, with a diverse range of keynote addresses, plenary sessions, and workshops. Our distinguished speakers will share their expertise on the latest advances in healthcare, from cutting-edge research to innovative clinical practices.

The theme of the conference will be “Hypertension and its Comorbidities”. This conference provides a unique platform for networking, collaboration, and knowledge sharing. I encourage you to engage with our speakers, moderators, and fellow delegates to explore new ideas, challenge existing ones, and forge meaningful connections.

As we navigate the complexities of healthcare in the Asia Pacific region, it is imperative that we come together to address the challenges and seize the opportunities. I am confident that APCH 2025 will be a catalyst for positive change, inspiring us to strive for excellence in healthcare delivery, research, and education.

Once again, I extend a warm welcome to APCH 2025. I look forward to meeting you all in person and exploring the exciting possibilities that this conference has to offer.

It is located in the city's commercial suburb, offering an extensive, never-before range of world-class hospitality & event facilities for the erstwhile City of Nawabs. It is a convenient location set just 6 kilometers from Chaudhary Charan Singh International Airport, LKO, our Ramada Lucknow offers tremendous event facilities paired with attentive service to provide the premier spot for all visitors to the Uttar Pradesh region. With contemporary design that brilliantly melds the individuality of Mughal-infused aesthetic articulations, the hotel & convention centre, spread over 10 acres, is ideal for both business, MICE and leisure guests. Relax in an elegant guest room or suite and take advantage of the state's biggest meeting, dining and leisure facilities at Ramada by Wyndham Lucknow.

Lucknow Attractions

Janeshwar Mishra Park, Lucknow

An urban park located in Gomti Nagar, Janeshwar Mishra Park is dedicated to the late politician Janeshwar Mishra. It is designed after the Hyde Park in London and counts among the top eco-friendly parks in the country. There are two large water bodies within the park which attract lots of migratory birds all through the year. Complete with jogging and cycling tracks, walkways, play areas for kids, gondola rides, and lush green settings, the park serves as a green lung in the city where you can refresh and relax.

Residency, Lucknow

Also called the Residency and the Residency Complex, the British Residency is a complex of buildings that once served as the residence of the British Resident General. Constructed in the last quarter of the 18th century, the place served home to over 3000 British residents during the Indian Rebellion of 1857. Currently, the Residency is in ruins and is a protected monument under the Archeological survey of India.

Ambedkar Park, Lucknow

A public park and memorial built across 107 acres in Gomti Nagar, Ambedkar Park honors Dr. Ambedkar, Jyotirao Phule, Kanshi Ram, Narayana Guru, and many other social reformers who worked for equality and social justice. A striking feature of the park is that the whole place is built using red sandstone bought in from Rajasthan. The key attractions here include the Ambedkar Stupa, Pratibimb Sthal with statues of 62 elephants, the museum, and Dr. Bhimrao Ambedkar Samajik Parivartan Gallery, among others.

River Front, Lucknow

Gomti Riverfront is a newly constructed park with some excellent aesthetic attraction positioned in Lucknow, Uttar Pradesh. It was inaugurated with the aid of the honourable CM of Uttar Pradesh on 16th October, 2016. Gomti Riverfront Park turned into built with the concern of renovation and development of river Gomti, which is taken into consideration because the lifeline of Uttar Pradesh. The lush green surroundings across the banks of Gomti river that's round 15kms long has been created as in keeping with International Standards.

Indira Gandhi Planetarium

A visit to the Indira Gandhi Planetarium must be on your list of things to do in Lucknow, especially if you are a science enthusiast or traveling with your kids. The planetarium is designed in such a way that it resembles the planet Saturn, which makes it different from all other planetariums in the country. With its high-tech projection system and daily screenings that reveal the wonders of the universe, it is a great place to spend a day learning a thing or two about celestial bodies.

Rumi Darwaza

When you want to witness the grandeur of the Awadhi style of architecture, make your way to the Rumi Darwaza, an imposing gateway located between Bara Imambara and Chota Imambara. This gateway built in 1784 by Nawab Asaf-ud-Daula is about 60-feet tall and is generally used as the logo for Lucknow city. Since the gate is modeled after the Sublime Porte in Istanbul, it is sometimes referred to as the Turkish Gate.

Bhool Bhulaiyaa (Bara Imambara)

Counted among the top historical places in Lucknow, Bara Imambara aka Asafi Imambara is a historical monument that dates back to 1784. Built by Asaf-ud-Daula, one of the renowned Nawabs of Awadh, the complex comprises a large mosque (Asfi Mosque), a labyrinth (the Bhul Bhulaiya), and a stepwell with running water (Shahi Baoli). The structure boasts of two large gateways that will lead you to the central hall, which is touted to be the largest vaulted chamber in the world.
